Therapist-Client Service Agreement

This document contains important information about our professional services and business policies. It also contains summary information about the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), a federal law that provides privacy protections and client rights with regard to the use and disclosure of your Protected Health Information (PHI) used for the purpose of treatment, payment, and health care operations. HIPAA requires that Hope Haven Psychological Resource, LLC, provide you with a Notice of Policies and Practices at Hope Haven Psychological Resource, LLC, to Protect the Privacy of your Health Information (the “notice”). This notice will explain HIPAA and its application to your personal health information in greater detail. Please read this Agreement and the Notice carefully. We will request that you sign the Notice of Privacy Practices acknowledging that we have provided you with this information. We will discuss any questions that you have about this Agreement and the Notice. Your signature on this Therapist-Client Services Agreement will constitute a binding agreement between you and Hope Haven Psychological Resource, LLC. Furthermore, this will also serve as consent to begin psychological services with you and/or your minor aged child (client).

EMERGENCIES

In the event of a life threatening emergency, please dial 911 or one of the following emergency numbers

Community Hospital Crisis	621-5700, 800-662-3445	St Francis Crisis	317-782-6495
Valle Vista Crisis	800-447-1348	St Vincent Crisis	317-338-4800

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

All records will be kept pursuant of HIPAA. Except in unusual circumstances that involve potential danger to yourself or others, you may examine and/or receive a copy of your Clinical/Treatment Record if you request it in writing. Because these are professional records, they can be misinterpreted and/or upsetting to untrained readers. If you wish to see your records, it is recommended that you review them with the mental health professional so that the contents can be discussed.

Upon request and written (signed) Authorization, you may have a copy of your Clinical/Treatment Record forwarded to another mental health professional so you can discuss the content. The exceptions to this policy are contained in the Notice of Privacy.

A fee of $0.25 per page will be charged for copying your records.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The law protects the privacy of all communication between a Client and a Mental Health Professional. In most situations, we can only release information about your treatment to others if you sign a written authorization form that meets certain legal requirements imposed by HIPAA. There are other situations that require only that you provide written, advance consent. Your signature on this Therapist-Client Services Agreement provides consent for those activities, as follows:

- I may occasionally find it helpful to consult other health and mental health professionals about a clinical situation. During a consultation, I will avoid revealing the identity of the client. The other professionals are also legally bound to keep the information confidential. If you do not object, I will not tell you about these consultations unless I feel that it is important to our professional work. I will note all consultations in your clinical record (which is called Protected Health Information [PHI] in the Notice of Policies and Practices at Hope Haven Psychological Resources, LLC, to Protect the Privacy of your Health Information).

- If a Client seriously threatens to harm himself/herself, I may be obligated to seek hospitalization for him/her, or contact family members or others who can help provide protection. I may disclose confidential information only to medical or law enforcement personnel if I determine that there is a probability of imminent physical injury by the Client to himself/herself or others.

There are some situations where I am permitted or required to disclose information without either your consent or Authorization:

- If you are involved in court proceedings and a request is made for information concerning your diagnosis and treatment, such information is protected by privilege/confidentiality laws. I cannot provide any information without your (or your legal representative's) written/signed Authorization, or a court order. If you are involved in or contemplating litigation, you should consult with your attorney to determine whether court action may possibly order Hope Haven Psychological Resource, LLC to disclose information.
- If a government agency is requesting the information for health oversight activities, I may be required to provide it for them.
- If a Client files a complaint or lawsuit against me, I may disclose relevant information regarding that Client in order to defend myself.
- If you file a worker's compensation claim, I may be required to disclose PHI, such as diagnosis and Clinical/Treatment records (Psychotherapy Notes), to relevant parties or officials.

There are some situations in which I am legally obligated to take actions, which I believe are necessary to attempt to protect yourself and/or others from harm, and I may have to reveal some information about a Client's treatment.

- If I have cause to believe that a child under 18 has been or may be abused or neglected (including physical injury, substantial threat of harm, or any kind of sexual contact or conduct), or that a child is a victim of a sexual offense, or that an elderly or disabled person is in a state of abuse, neglect or exploitation, I must report that belief, as required by law, to the appropriate authorities. Once such a report is filed, I may be required to provide additional information.
- If I determine that there is a probability that the Client will inflict imminent physical injury to another, or that the Client will inflict imminent physical harm upon himself/herself, I will be required to take protective action by disclosing information to medical or law enforcement personnel or by securing hospitalization of the Client.

If such a situation arises, I will make every effort to fully discuss it with you before taking action and I will limit my disclosure to what is necessary. While this written summary of exceptions to confidentiality should prove helpful in informing you about potential problems, it is important that we discuss any question or concerns that you have now or in the future. In situations where specific advice is required, formal legal advice may be needed.

CLIENT RIGHTS

HIPAA provides you with several rights with regard to your Clinical/Treatment Records and disclosures of PHI. These rights include requesting that I amend your record; requesting restrictions on what information from your Clinical/Treatment Record is disclosed to others; requesting an accounting of disclosures of PHI; determining the location that protected information disclosures are sent; having any complaints you make about Hope Haven Psychological Resource LLC's policies and procedures recorded in your records; and the right to have a paper copy of this agreement, the Notice of Privacy and Practices form, and the privacy policies and procedures at Hope Haven Psychological Resources, LLC.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

You have the right to choose not to receive services from Hope Haven Psychological Resource, LLC at any time. If you choose this, you will be provided with names of other qualified professionals whose services you may prefer. You also have the right to ask any questions about the procedures used in practice. I encourage you to ask questions about Hope Haven Psychological Resource, LLC methods as they arise. I encourage you to ask question you may have about the structure of a therapist-client relationship or the nature of services at any time. Please feel free to discuss with me any problem that may arise regarding any of these policies.

I. Uses and Disclosures for Treatment, Payment, and Health Care Operations

I may use or disclose your Protected Health Information (PHI) for treatment, payment, and health care operations purposes with your written consent. To help clarify these terms, here are some definitions:

- “PHI” refers to information in your health record that could identify you
- “Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations”
 - Treatment is when a Mental Health Professional provides, coordinates or manages your health care and other services related to your health care. An example of treatment includes when a Mental Health Professional consults with another health care provider, such as your family physician or another mental health professional.
 - Payment is when I obtained reimbursement for your healthcare.
 - Health Care Operations are activities that relate to the performance and operation of my practice. Examples of health care operations are quality assessment and improvement activities, business-related matters such as audits and administrative services, and case management and care coordination.
- “Uses” applies only to activities within this office, such as sharing, employing, applying, utilizing, examining, and analyzing information that identifies you.
- “Disclosures” applies to activities outside of this office, such as releasing, transferring, or providing access to information about you to other parties.

II. Uses and Disclosures Requiring Authorization

I may use or disclose PHI for purposes outside of treatment, payment, and health care operations when your appropriate authorization is obtained. An “authorization” is written permission above and beyond the general consent that permits only specific disclosures. In those instances when I am asked for information for purposes outside of treatment, payment and health care operations, I will obtain an authorization from you before releasing this information. I will also need to obtain an authorization before releasing your psychotherapy notes. “Psychotherapy Notes” are notes I have made about our conversation during a private, group, joint, or family counseling session (or telephone conversation pertinent to any counseling session), which I have kept separate from the rest of your medical record. These notes are given a greater degree of protection than PHI.

You may revoke all such authorizations (of PHI or Psychotherapy Notes) at any time, provided each revocation is in writing. You may not revoke an authorization to the extent that (1) This agency has relied on that authorization; or (2) if the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining insurance coverage, law provides the insurer the right to contest the claim under the police.

III. Uses and Disclosures with Neither Consent nor Authorization

This agency may use or disclose PHI without your consent or authorization in the following circumstances:

- Child Abuse: If this agency has reasonable cause to believe that a child has been abused, we must report that belief, as required by law, to the appropriate authorities.
- Adult and Domestic Abuse: If this agency has reasonable cause to believe that a disable adult or elder person has had a physical injury or injuries upon such disabled adult or elder person, other than by accidental means, or has been neglected or exploited, this agency must report that belief, as required by law, to the appropriate authorities.
- Health Oversight Activities: If a government agency, such as the Indiana Attorney General's Office is conducting an investigation into my practice, then this agency is required to disclose PHI upon receipt of a subpoena.
- Judicial and Administrative Proceedings: If the patient is involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about the professional services this agency provided you and/or the record thereof, such information is privileged under state law, and this agency will not release information without the written authorization of you (or your legally appointed representative) or a court order. The privilege does not apply when you are being evaluated for a third party or where the evaluation is court ordered. You will be informed in advance if this is the case.
- Serious Threat to Health or Safety: If this agency determines, or pursuant to the standards of this agency's profession should determine, that you present a clear and immediate probability of physical harm to yourself, to other individual(s), or to society, this agency may communicate relevant information concerning this to the potential victim, appropriate family member, medical or law enforcement personnel, or other appropriate authorities.
- Worker's Compensation: If you file a worker's compensation claim, this agency may be required to disclose PHI, such as your diagnosis and treatment records, to relevant parties or officials. This agency may disclose PHI regarding you as authorized by and to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to worker's compensation or other similar programs (e.g., SSI), established by law that provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness without regard to fault.

IV. Client's Rights and Therapist Duties

Client's Rights:

- Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosure of PHI. However, this agency is not required to agree to a restriction you request.
- Right to Receive Confidential Communication by Alternate Means and Alternate Locations: You have the right to request and receive confidential communications of PHI by alternate means and at alternate locations (e.g., you may not want a family member to know you are seeing a psychological professional for treatment. Upon your request, this agency will send correspondence to another address.)
- Right to Inspect and Copy: You have the right to inspect or obtain a copy (or both) of PHI in this agency's mental health and billing records used to make decisions about you as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. This agency may deny your access to PHI under certain circumstances, but in some cases you may have this decision reviewed. On your request, this agency will discuss with you the details of the request and denial process.

- Right to Amend: You have the right to request an amendment of PHI for as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. This agency may deny your request. On your request, this agency will discuss with you the details of the amendment process.
- Right to an Accounting: You generally have the right to receive an accounting of disclosures of PHI. On your request, this agency will discuss with you the details of the accounting process.
- Right to a Paper Copy: you will be provided a paper copy of this notice from this agency and will be asked to acknowledge receipt of this notice.

Agency Duties:

- This agency is required by law to maintain the privacy of PHI and to provide you with a notice of legal duties and privacy practices with respect to PHI.
- This agency reserves the right to change the privacy and policies and practices described in this notice. Unless this agency notifies you of such changes; however, this agency is required to abide by the terms currently in effect.
- If this agency revises the policies and procedures, this agency will provide you with a written copy of those revisions at the next appointment or by mail.

V. Complaints

If you are concerned that this agency violated your privacy rights, or you disagree with a decision this agency made about access to your records, you may contact the administrative office at the above phone and/or address.

You may also send a written complaint to the Indiana State Department of Health and the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. This agency can provide you with the appropriate addresses upon request.

You have specific rights under the Privacy Rule. This agency will take no retaliatory action against you for exercising your right to file a complaint.

VI. Effective Date, Restrictions and Changes to Privacy Policy

This Notice, pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), has been in effect since April 14, 2003. This agency reserves the right to change the terms of this notice and to make the new notice provisions effective for all PHI that this agency maintained. This agency will provide you with a revised notice in person or by mail.

I have reviewed, understand, and received a paper copy of the “Notice of Policies and Practices at Hope Haven Psychological Resources, LLC, to Protect the Privacy of Your Health Information” from a psychological professional.

Notice of Policies and Practices at Hope Haven Psychological Resources, LLC, to Protect the Privacy of Your Health Information

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW PSYCHOLOGICAL AND MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU (WHICH INCLUDES YOUR MINOR-AGED CHILD, IF HE/SHE IS THE IDENTIFIED CLIENT) MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION PLEASE REVIEW CAREFULLY.

I. Uses and Disclosures for Treatment, Payment, and Health Care Operations

I may use or disclose your Protected Health Information (PHI) for treatment, payment, and health care operations purposes with your written consent. To help clarify these terms, here are some definitions:

- “PHI” refers to information in your health record that could identify you
- “Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations”
 - Treatment is when a Mental Health Professional provides, coordinates or manages your health care and other services related to your health care. An example of treatment includes when a Mental Health Professional consults with another health care provider, such as your family physician or another mental health professional.
 - Payment is when I obtained reimbursement for your healthcare.
 - Health Care Operations are activities that relate to the performance and operation of my practice. Examples of health care operations are quality assessment and improvement activities, business-related matters such as audits and administrative services, and case management and care coordination.
- “Uses” applies only to activities within this office, such as sharing, employing, applying, utilizing, examining, and analyzing information that identifies you.
- “Disclosures” applies to activities outside of this office, such as releasing, transferring, or providing access to information about you to other parties.

II. Uses and Disclosures Requiring Authorization

I may use or disclose PHI for purposes outside of treatment, payment, and health care operations when your appropriate authorization is obtained. An “authorization” is written permission above and beyond the general consent that permits only specific disclosures. In those instances when I am asked for information for purposes outside of treatment, payment and health care operations, I will obtain an authorization from you before releasing this information. I will also need to obtain an authorization before releasing your psychotherapy notes. “Psychotherapy Notes” are notes I have made about our conversation during a private, group, joint, or family counseling session (or telephone conversation pertinent to any counseling session), which I have kept separate from the rest of your medical record. These notes are given a greater degree of protection than PHI.

You may revoke all such authorizations (of PHI or Psychotherapy Notes) at any time, provided each revocation is in writing. You may not revoke an authorization to the extent that (1) This agency has relied on that authorization; or (2) if the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining insurance coverage, law provides the insurer the right to contest the claim under the police.

III. Uses and Disclosures with Neither Consent nor Authorization

This agency may use or disclose PHI without your consent or authorization in the following circumstances:

- Child Abuse: If this agency has reasonable cause to believe that a child has been abused, we must report that belief, as required by law, to the appropriate authorities.
- Adult and Domestic Abuse: If this agency has reasonable cause to believe that a disable adult or elder person has had a physical injury or injuries upon such disabled adult or elder person, other than by accidental means, or has been neglected or exploited, this agency must report that belief, as required by law, to the appropriate authorities.
- Health Oversight Activities: If a government agency, such as the Indiana Attorney General's Office is conducting an investigation into my practice, then this agency is required to disclose PHI upon receipt of a subpoena.
- Judicial and Administrative Proceedings: If the patient is involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about the professional services this agency provided you and/or the record thereof, such information is privileged under state law, and this agency will not release information without the written authorization of you (or your legally appointed representative) or a court order. The privilege does not apply when you are being evaluated for a third party or where the evaluation is court ordered. You will be informed in advance if this is the case.
- Serious Threat to Health or Safety: If this agency determines, or pursuant to the standards of this agency's profession should determine, that you present a clear and immediate probability of physical harm to yourself, to other individual(s), or to society, this agency may communicate relevant information concerning this to the potential victim, appropriate family member, medical or law enforcement personnel, or other appropriate authorities.
- Worker's Compensation: If you file a worker's compensation claim, this agency may be required to disclose PHI, such as your diagnosis and treatment records, to relevant parties or officials. This agency may disclose PHI regarding you as authorized by and to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to worker's compensation or other similar programs (e.g., SSI), established by law that provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness without regard to fault.

IV. Client's Rights and Therapist Duties

Client's Rights:

- Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosure of PHI. However, this agency is not required to agree to a restriction you request.
- Right to Receive Confidential Communication by Alternate Means and Alternate Locations: You have the right to request and receive confidential communications of PHI by alternate means and at alternate locations (e.g., you may not want a family member to know you are seeing a psychological professional for treatment. Upon your request, this agency will send correspondence to another address.)
- Right to Inspect and Copy: You have the right to inspect or obtain a copy (or both) of PHI in this agency's mental health and billing records used to make decisions about you as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. This agency may deny your access to PHI under certain circumstances, but in some cases you may have this decision reviewed. On your request, this agency will discuss with you the details of the request and denial process.

- Right to Amend: You have the right to request an amendment of PHI for as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. This agency may deny your request. On your request, this agency will discuss with you the details of the amendment process.
- Right to an Accounting: You generally have the right to receive an accounting of disclosures of PHI. On your request, this agency will discuss with you the details of the accounting process.
- Right to a Paper Copy: you will be provided a paper copy of this notice from this agency and will be asked to acknowledge receipt of this notice.

Agency Duties:

- This agency is required by law to maintain the privacy of PHI and to provide you with a notice of legal duties and privacy practices with respect to PHI.
- This agency reserves the right to change the privacy and policies and practices described in this notice. Unless this agency notifies you of such changes; however, this agency is required to abide by the terms currently in effect.
- If this agency revises the policies and procedures, this agency will provide you with a written copy of those revisions at the next appointment or by mail.

V. Complaints

If you are concerned that this agency violated your privacy rights, or you disagree with a decision this agency made about access to your records, you may contact the administrative office at the above phone and/or address.

You may also send a written complaint to the Indiana State Department of Health and the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. This agency can provide you with the appropriate addresses upon request.

You have specific rights under the Privacy Rule. This agency will take no retaliatory action against you for exercising your right to file a complaint.

VI. Effective Date, Restrictions and Changes to Privacy Policy

This Notice, pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), has been in effect since April 14, 2003. This agency reserves the right to change the terms of this notice and to make the new notice provisions effective for all PHI that this agency maintained. This agency will provide you with a revised notice in person or by mail.

WAITING AREA POLICY

For the safety of you, your family, other clients and staff, we have a few general rules about our waiting areas:

1. Please don't leave young children unattended in the waiting room. Children under age 12 cannot be left alone in our waiting areas. Prior approval by your therapist is required for children to sit in Adult sessions.
2. Parents/Guardians are discouraged from leaving the property while their child is in session. If you need to leave please inform your therapist and/or the receptionist before exiting; please return before the end of the session.
3. Respect the privacy of others who are waiting. Please do not ask other people why they are here - even if they look friendly and approachable.
4. Please be quiet. Some clients are more sensitive than others. Sound and conversation can easily distract them from the healing they need during their session. Please help us to maintain a calm and quiet space to help in the healing process of our clients.
5. Please protect your confidentiality. Your phone conversations are private. If you need to make/take a call, please take the call outside of our waiting area to ensure confidentiality.
6. Please don't eat in our waiting areas.
7. You are welcome to bring toys or (silent) games to occupy young children, and remind them to use their "inside" voices.

It is our hope that you find peace and comfort in our waiting areas.

I agree to comply with this Waiting Room policy, as stated above.
